Date of Excursion: Friday 18th July, 2014

Details of Excursion: This show, with visiting artists from Ghana, brings the magical sounds of Africa alive in a performance of drumming, dancing and singing. “Salaka”, which means “sharing” in Ghana, shares traditional African culture through music.

All students get a hands-on experience with drumming and are also involved in dancing, singing and body percussion. All students will be participating in lessons about the African culture as a component of our Performing Arts program.

The African drums and rattles are the most popular instruments in the music room.
